Healthmark Industries Launches AccuPoint-HC System for HAI Prevention

By Rob Kurtz | July 22, 2011

Healthmark Industries, which develops products for the sterilization, decontamination, storage and security of surgical instruments and other medical devices and accessories, has announced the launch of a new product that can analyze a collected sample in 30 seconds and indicate whether a surface is clean, helping to prevent healthcare-acquired infections.

The AccuPoint-HC system is designed to be superior to traditional swabs as its flat surface comes in complete contact with the area being sampled, according to a news release. Sample test results are displayed on its reader, as well as in its Data Manager software, which can be used to track and trend data, document results and demonstrate quality improvement.

Healthmark has designed AccuPoint-HC as a self-contained cartridge which can help minimize the opportunity for false positive results from poor collection technique, according to the release.
